- The premium payable depends upon various factors - the size of the member group, the age distribution of the members, the location distribution of the members, past mortality experience of the group, sum assured for individual members etc. The premium rate is quoted on receiving the individual member data from the Master Policyholder. - The new entrants joining after date of commencement of the scheme shall be eligible to join throughout the policy year and the proportionate risk premium from the date of joining till the end of the policy year will be payable by the master policyholder. All other rules relating to underwriting will remain same as applicable to other members joining on the date of commencement or on the policy year as the case may be.
- Pro-rata premium is calculated by using the following formula:

$$N/T \times \text{Modal Premium}$$
 Where N is the number of days yet to be expired till the due date of next premium.
 Where T is the number of days for which Modal Premium is paid.
